UCSC Student Organizations - Get Involved!

_Eyecandy_
_Eyecandy_ is a Film and Digital Media sponsored student-run film and digital media journal founded in the fall of 1999. _Eyecandy_ focuses on analytical, critical, and theoretical issues in film and digital media, as opposed to the more evaluative criticism found in popular press. _Eyecandy_ examines film and digital media in relation to other significant issues such as art form, social and cultural theory and politics. Above all, _Eyecandy_ is a forum for writers from all fields to discuss and raise issues about film and digital media as a popular phenomenon and area of critical study.
http://eyecandy.ucsc.edu

_SCTV28_
SCTV is UCSC's own student-run television station, and an innovative resource available to the students of the UCSC community. SCTV28 includes programming like “On The Spot” and “Bananna Slug News.” The organization meets weekly and there are a variety of ways students can participate. Tune-in to Channel 28 on-campus! SCTV is your television station at UC Santa Cruz.

_Production Groups_
There are many student-run production groups on campus. These groups each produce various shorts and digital videos, and one feature-length film per year. Students have the opportunity to gain hands-on-experience on working with a film crew, and learn the process for producing a film, from pre- to post-production.

Film Production Coalition: https://www.facebook.com/FPC.SCTV

Actors/Filmmakers Alliance: http://afa.ucsc.edu/

UCSC Student Media Groups: http://soar.ucsc.edu/v2/student-media/student-media-organizations.html